Time Saved

Revenue Increased

It's no surprise that almost all Australian small business owners have mobile devices. What is surprising, is the business returns they are getting from the use of these devices.

Intuit's recent Small Business Mobile Study of 501 small business owners, shines a light on how small businesses are using mobile devices to access information and complete important tasks, today.

63% of small businesses using mobile devices as part of their business say that technology saves them an average of almost eight hours per week - the equivalent of nine working weeks each year!

What do small business owners think about the mobile-enabled capabilities that Quickbooks Online gives them in performing business tasks remotely?

They say it enables them to run and manage their business when they're away from the office, on the move, travelling, or on holidays. It saves time, gives them better financial control over tasks including payments, invoicing and expenses; allowing them to be more responsive to customers

When it comes to mobile devices in small business, the greater the use, the greater the pay off.
